

8201 Oakleigh Road
Baltimore, MD 21234
October 27, 1988

Dear Mom and Dad,

I didn't have a chance to write down the recipe I told you about but I will do try to do so soon. Now that the marathon is over I have more incentive to take the time to do more cooking. Tonight I made a chicken recipe from the New York Times. I believe I am fully recovered from the race. I stayed home on Tuesday to rest up and compensate myself for some extra hours at the office. It was a beautiful Fall day. I went for a short jog at noon and enjoyed the colorful trees in the sun. It was breezy and 54 degrees. We have had light frosts in the mornings.

Last night we went to the first Baltimore Opera production of the season. It was Mozart's, "The Marriage of Figaro". We enjoyed it very much. We listened to the recording and followed the libretto last Saturday and that contributed a lot to enjoying the opera. Now we have many events coming up with the next a play at the Folger Theatre one week from Sunday. This weekend I hope it is nice so we can go for a hike. Now it is time for Mystery Theater so I will wish you good night,

Love,

Jim